REASSIGNMENT OF SERGEANT MARK GEISS

Colonel Bryan Klipfel, superintendent of the North Dakota Highway Patrol, announces the reassignment of Sergeant Mark Geiss.

Effective May 1, 2006, Sergeant Mark Geiss is reassigned to the Law Enforcement Training Academy in Bismarck as the field training officer.

Sergeant Geiss began his career with the Highway Patrol in October 1995 by attending the Highway Patrol Academy in Bismarck. Upon graduation, he was assigned to the Grand Forks District and stationed as a trooper at Larimore. In May 2002, he was promoted to Sergeant and reassigned to the Williston Highway Patrol District as district sergeant. From January 2004 to March 2005, Sergeant Geiss was on military leave serving with the ND National Guard in Iraq. In March 2005, he was transferred back to Grand Forks as district sergeant where he has served until his current transfer.

Sergeant Geiss received a Bachelor of Arts degree in English Education from North Dakota State University.
